Detailed Action

This is the first Office Action corresponding to original filing. The application contains 22 claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-5, 7, 9, 11-16, 18 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kuhn et al. (Pat No 3,178,140).

The patent to Kuhn et al. shows a bracket comprising a propping member (14) having apertures, a connector member (40), coupling means (8, 50) disposed in the apertures and apertures (18) for securing the bracket to the base (supporting surface). The bracket shown by Kuhn et al. is capable of securing cables, like optic cables.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 6, 8, 10, 17, 20 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kohn et al.

The type of connector being used would depend on the type of cable to be secured within the bracket. The angle at which the connector and the propping members are disposed is considered to be an obvious matter of engineering choice having no patentable significance. To provide the apertures on the connector and not in the propping member is seen as an obvious reversal of parts if desired to attach the bracket in a different way.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Comito (4,795,121), Johnson et al. (5,871,182), Pedley et al. (6,325,337), Winkler (2002/0145095 A1), Grendahl (2004/0113028 A1), Vantouroux (2004/0124320 A1) and Capan et al. (6,769,652) show devices having a structure of interest.
